2025 — A year of progress, trust and quiet transformation

24 DECEMBER 2025

At Bogerd Martin, we don't believe progress is measured by noise or headlines. It's measured by trust, continuity and the ability to evolve together with our customers.

2025 was a year in which the maritime world became more complex — not less. New regulations, accelerating digitalisation, rising expectations around performance, emissions and cyber resilience. In that reality, our role remained clear: to help our customers navigate change without disruption.

Throughout the year, we strengthened what Bogerd Martin stands for:

- reliable digital navigation and chart services
- deeper insight through ChartTrack Insights
- practical tools for performance monitoring, emissions and compliance
- and a steady move towards connected, future-ready maritime intelligence (S-100 included)

Not as promises, but as working solutions — delivered day by day.

What truly defined 2025, however, was collaboration.
With customers who challenge us.
With partners who think long-term.
With teams who combine maritime knowledge with digital craftsmanship.

We are grateful for the trust placed in us — often quietly, always meaningfully.

As we look towards 2026, our ambition is simple and unchanged:
to remain a stable, knowledgeable and forward-looking partner in a sector that never stands st

Thank you to everyone who sailed alongside us in 2025.
We look forward to continuing the journey — with clarity, confidence and care.

On behalf of the entire Bogerd Martin team, we wish you a warm end to the year and a safe, successful 2026.
